Calgary Youth Services Guide

Calgary has a lot of great youth services and organizations, but it’s not always easy to find them.

That’s why we’ve created the Calgary Youth Services Guide. Published by Calgary Neighbourhoods, it contains a listing of agencies and organizations that provide programs and services for youth. It’s another way to connect youth to the programs and people they need.

The resources in this guide can help youth, parents and those who work with youth with everything from social connections and employment to support services, health and recreation.

The information was obtained from informalberta.ca, an online database of community, government, health and social services.

While many of the resources are designed for young people between the ages of 15 and 24, some services and programs are for those outside this age range as well. You can check with the organization to see what age groups they offer service to.

Have more questions? Call 211. It’s a free, confidential and multilingual service that connects you to many other programs and services not listed in this guide.

The listing of an organizations in this guide does not indicate its endorsement, nor does the exclusion imply a lack of approval.
