

2018 – What’s different?

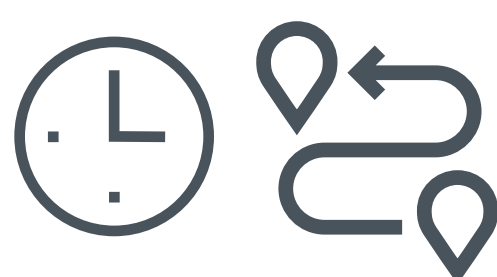

We reviewed feedback from our 2017 construction season and met with stakeholders at the end of the year to learn what went well, and where we could improve for 2018. Here’s what we’re doing to improve for this year’s construction.

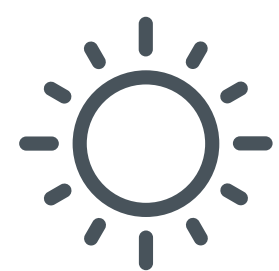

Sidewalks are open: we are delaying sidewalk improvements until we are done roadwork so that pedestrians have safe, consistent access to 17th Ave.

Better information: We have changed our website and newsletter to make sure businesses, residents and visitors to 17th know what’s going on, how they can access their favorite shops and restaurants, and to contact our team with any questions.

Predictable schedule: We have set our schedule for the year and will stick to it. If we do encounter delays, we will make sure businesses, residents and visitors are aware and can plan accordingly.

Open for the summer: Calgarians like to make the most of their summer, so we are fully opening the avenue between Stampede and the end of August.
