Your property tax is comprised of City and provincial portions. City property tax is your investment in making Calgary a great place to live. Your tax dollars support the delivery of services Calgarians need and value every day. The provincial portion, approximately 35 per cent of residential tax, is transferred to the Government of Alberta.

City property tax

To determine the amount of City property tax needed, each year Council approves a yearly budget to support City services. From this, The City takes the overall expenditure and subtracts all other sources of revenue such as licence fees, permits, user fees and provincial grants. The balance is the amount to be raised through City property tax.

Calculating City property tax
The City and provincial tax rates are established for each assessment class (Residential, Non-residential and Farmland). These rates reflect the amount of tax to be paid for every $1 of assessed value. Your property assessment is used to calculate your portion of total revenue The City and Government of Alberta collects. Your property assessment is based on the market value of your property on July 1, 2023.

The formula used to determine the City property tax rate:

\text{City tax rate} = \frac{\text{Total revenue required by The City of Calgary from property tax}}{\text{Total assessment}}
\]

Where do residential tax dollars go?

- 65% funds City of Calgary services
- 35% goes to Government of Alberta

Provincial property tax

The Province of Alberta establishes a budget and sets a tax rate based on the revenue it requires from property tax. Calgary taxpayer’s share is based on the assessment value of your property and the provincial set property tax rate. To learn more visit Alberta.ca.
