| 25 Avenue S.E. LRT Grade Separation Study (Just an FYI) | This was considered many years ago, and I recently requested more information on where this ended up. Here's what I got back:"Yes, The City previously considered overpass/flyover options as part of the 25 Avenue S.E. LRT Grade Separation Study. This included two median flyover concepts that were reviewed in 2017 along with other options for the area and public feedback. Ultimately, the study did not recommend moving forward with a grade separation of Macleod Trail and 25 Avenue, and the intersection is planned to remain at street level. The final recommendations were presented to Council on May 28, 2018. Council approved implementing the short-term recommendations as funding becomes available and directed Administration to revisit the longer-term options when there is more certainty about flood mitigation and future land use and development around Erlton Station." |
| Community Garden Update | I hear it has finally moved forward through the City! I'm still connecting with Parks about any potential updates, so please keep me in the loop as needed. |
| MNP Construction Update | I have heard they are still on schedule, but I have been also hearing more again lately about disruptions from construction vehicles. 311 won't always be able to action these concerns, but the data and logging the overall issues can help long term. |
